Introduction

The purpose of the Health Care Resource Guide: A Directory of Health Resources Serving Frederick County, Maryland is to categorically list and describe non-profit and governmental resources available to provide health care to lower-income, uninsured, and underinsured residents of Frederick County. The Health Care Resource Guide is not intended to list all available programs and resources, but rather the major programs that provide primary health care, dental and oral health care, medication and prescription drug assistance, and enrollment access points. Enrollment Access Points can be described as agencies where lower-income and uninsured people may go to apply for public and other health care assistance – programs like Medical Assistance (MA), Primary Adult Care (PAC), Maryland Children's Health Program (MCHP), and health care services for veterans. Organizations/agencies and programs are listed alphabetically under each category of service. The Health Care Resource Guide is targeted for use by health and human service professionals, but certainly the general public can also make direct use of the resources in this directory. As envisioned, a worker in a health or human service agency could easily photocopy or download and print applicable pages of the Health Care Resource Guide when referring patients/clients to available local resources.

The Health Care Resource Guide is available online at www.cityoffrederick.com/fcaa and a limited number of copies are also available in a printed version. The thought is that resources, and especially program eligibility, change frequently so an online version of the Health Care Resource Guide will be easier to update. Orientation sessions about how to access and use the Health Care Resource Guide are also available; please contact me if you would like to arrange an orientation session for your staff. Resource updates can be emailed to me at the address below. Lastly, many thanks to all of the agencies and organizations that responded quickly and thoroughly when I requested information about your programs and resources – your help is greatly appreciated.
